Notice to the Public.

I HAVE THIS DAY DISPOSED OF MY DIAMOND Watch and Jewelry business, at the corner of First and Morrison streets, to Mr ALBERT FELDENHEIMER who has been in my employ for the last eight years. In retiring from the business I have been engaged in for the past seventeen years in Portland, I wish to express my grateful acknowledgements for the generous patronage bestowed upon me and take pleasure in recommending my successor as a reliable business man every way worthy of public confidence.

I will still be found at my old place, where I will be happy to see my friends. And I especially urge those indebted to me to settle as early as possible. Bills will be receipted by myself or Mr Albert Feldenheimer.

B. L. STONE

Portland Oregon March 6 1885.

Referring to the above I desire in assuming the proprietorship of this establishment to say that I shall use my best effort to maintain the high reputation Mr Stone has given to it and will endeavor to entitle myself to the liberal patronage he has enjoyed. The house will retain the name "STONE'S JEWELRY STORE" by which it has been so favorably known.

I have perfected arrangements to import my stock direct, thus saving the commissions and profits of middlemen for the benefit of my customers. A large addition of new goods will immediately be made to my already large stock, and no pains will be spared to keep even with the times in the matter of variety, quality, styles and prices.

THE AX READY FOR AN OREGONIAN

Comment on Cleveland's Recent Nominations—Operations of the Union Pacific—Huntington Interviewed at New York—Etc.

Senate

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Memorials from the legislature of Arizona praying for the forfeiture of the public domain of lands granted railroads in the territory, and for legislation to prevent organized raids from Mexico were referred.

The galleries of the senate were then cleared and the doors closed. It is supposed the Nicaragua treaty was taken up. A large pile of [illegible] and covered books lay upon Morgan's desk and it is [illegible] he will consume the day with a speech in favor of the treaty.

The discussion was brought to an end by a half hour's speech by Senator [illegible] in opposition to the treaty. No action was taken. There were about a dozen senators in the chamber when the doors were opened.

The credentials of James H. Berry, senator-elect from Arkansas, were presented. Adjourned.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS

[illegible] SPLIT EXPECTED [illegible]

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The Star says: Mr Blaine feels friendly toward Mr Cleveland and thinks it will be the duty of republicans in congress to give him every possible backing in carrying out the policy he has laid down. A large majority of the republicans agree with Mr Blaine in this. They expect to see many democrats repudiate Cleveland if he lives up to his promises. They expect to see a large faction of the democrats opposing him in congress next winter, and they have determined that they will stand by him. There is no disposition in the senate to oppose any nominations he may send in except upon such grounds as they would oppose them if sent in by a republican president, and they will treat all his recommendations with respect. Leading republicans who form the opinion and policy of their party in the house say that from what they can judge of his policy at this time, and from his public declarations, they do not expect Mr Cleveland to follow any line of action in which he would not receive their endorsement and hearty support. Should there be a split in the democratic party growing out of the discontent of those democrats who looked for a complete revolution of affairs when the democratic president came into power, the republicans say they will rush into the breach and support Cleveland. Moreover, if the democrats oppose the administration in the house two years hence when the next congressional elections come off, the republicans will make civil service reform the main issue in the campaign and try to beat the anti-Cleveland and anti-civil service reform men on the ground that they are more interested in spoils than in honest government. The republicans are united in this and they will be found in the next congress for and with Cleveland in everything except it may be the tariff, until they don't know how he stands on that.

WASHINGTON NOTES

WASHINGTON, March 24.—A committee consisting of Joseph Packard and William Winchester, representing the Civil Service Reform Association of Maryland, waited on the secretary of the interior to-day and presented him a copy of the resolution adopted by that association protesting against the appointment of Eugene Higgins as chief of the appointment division of the treasury department. The secretary promised to give the matter his consideration.

Edwin W. Knightly, third auditor of the treasury, to-day tendered his resignation at the request of Secretary Manning. He was active in politics in Indiana in the last campaign.

John W. Mackay of Nevada called on the president to-day.

It is understood the cabinet session to-day was devoted to consideration of appointments to be made before adjournment of the senate.

NOMINATIONS

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Henry L. Muldrow, Mississippi, assistant secretary of the interior; William A. J. Sparks, Illinois, commissioner of the general land office; Daniel McConville, Ohio, auditor of the treasury for the postoffice department.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Mr Muldrow, nominated assistant secretary of the interior, was a colonel in the confederate army and member of the 45th, 46th, 47th and 48th congresses.

Mr Sparks, the new commissioner general of the land office, is a well known democratic politician and served in congress from 1875 to 1883, declining re-election.

Mr McConville, nominated [illegible] auditor of the treasury for the postoffice department, is [illegible] St. Clairsville, O., and is private secretary of Governor Hoadly.

THE [illegible] REPORT

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Report of the commissioner of railroads on the Union Pacific railroad as revealed by the company's books shows that there was due the United States for the year 1884 under the Thurman act $1,131,520, against which there is credited for government transportation etc. $1,13[illegible],173, leaving $[illegible] due the government for the year. President Adams says the company will pay promptly the $17,000 adjudged due the government by the court of claims. The $50,000 in dispute has been decided against the company, which leaves the road in debt to the government as above stated.

THE AX READY FOR AN OREGONIAN

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24.—The Chronicle's Washington special states that there is reason to believe that W. W. Upton of Oregon, who holds the position of second controller of the treasury department, will, with several other officials, be relieved from his position. Assistant Secretary Fairchild has found a number of complaints in relation to the second controller's office, which have satisfied him it is a place where the reform ax should fall with great force.

EASTERN NEWS ITEMS

WRIT OF ERROR GRANTED

CHICAGO, March 24.—Judge Gresham, in the United States circuit court this morning, granted a writ of error in the case of Mackin and Gallagher, convicted of election frauds. They were admitted to bail in the sum of $[illegible] each, and released from jail. The time for sending the two men to the penitentiary expired at noon to-day, and if the writ had not been granted they would have been taken to Joliet. The time for hearing the writ of error has not yet been fixed upon. On reviewing the case, Judge Gresham said [illegible] the district court, he considered the question raised sufficiently grave to warrant him to grant a writ of error, which would also operate as a stay of proceedings. This ruling, however, was not [illegible] he take that he would overrule the findings of the district court on the final hearing. [illegible] he would feel it necessary to increase the bail of defendants to $[illegible]. Mr. McDonald, the gambler, qualified [illegible] and stated he owned $500,000 [illegible].

GENERAL GRANT'S CONDITION

NEW YORK, March 24.—General Grant was very restless the first part of the night but slept well during the latter part. He arose at 7:30 this morning and sat in a chair near a window during the forenoon. He dozed and slept at intervals this morning, and said that he felt very comfortable but tired.

After visiting General Grant to-night Dr Douglas said: The general had a very good day. He took a good deal of food. His condition is more favorable. His pulse and temperature is good for a sick man. His throat looked quite as well as usual. The general came down stairs this evening, and he said he felt like going out for a walk, but of course he did not. The general's carriage was driven around in the afternoon and the question considered if he should take a drive, but I advised that the air was too keen and he remained in doors. He is apparently in better condition this evening than for several days.

SYMPATHY FOR GENERAL GRANT

CHESTER, Pa., March 24.—The Philadelphia Methodist Episcopal conference unanimously passed the following resolution: That we, the members of this conference, for ourselves and our people, tender General Grant assurance of our affection and promise our fervent prayers beseeching Almighty God to lighten his sufferings, and if it be possible to lengthen his days, to strengthen them with the might of the inner man and surround him with the shinings of divine peace, so that if, as we fondly hope, he shall be spared to live yet many days to his family and to his country, the peace of God which passeth all understanding may rest upon him always, or if it be appointed to him to fight now his last fight, his last enemy may be put under his feet.

THE OKLAHOMA BOOMERS

COFFEYVILLE, Kan., March 24.—The Oklahoma colonists of Coffeyville are seeking to get a large force into Oklahoma. While General Hatch is busy watching Captain Couch at Arkansas City, the plan is to send men in small squads and scatter over the country, keeping scouts riding to warn them of the approach of troops. They have received reinforcements from Texas and propose to wear out the ninth cavalry by long marches. A wagon [illegible] loaded with supplies for the colonists was started from here on Sunday.

A SKIN GAME, [illegible]

CHICAGO, March 24.—Jack Burke and Alf Greenfield fought [illegible] Battery D armory in presence of between 4000 and 5000 people. It [illegible] to spar six rounds, Marquis of Queensbury rules, with small gloves. At the end of six rounds the referee could not agree, and another round was fought without settling the matter, and the parties were separated. It will probably be called a draw. There were no knock-downs.

WHEAT PROSPECTS

CHICAGO, March 24.—The Farmers' Review in a summary of reports from correspondents throughout western states for the week ending March [illegible] says: The conditions are such that a comparatively small area of spring wheat can be got into the ground before April 1. This though it cannot be called late, can not be called early. [illegible] and to winter wheat, it says: The indications are that taking the decrease in acreage and the daily running down of crop prospects we shall see a winter crop in quality below that of 1883.

A NEW YORK SCANDAL

NEW YORK, March 24.—Miss Eloise [illegible], daughter of the senior member of the firm of Lord & Taylor, was secretly married in Brooklyn more than a month ago to Francis V. [illegible]. There are the usual unpleasant [illegible] incidental to elopements and Lord is much incensed at his daughter.

YELLOW FEVER

NEW YORK, March 24.—Two cases of yellow fever occurred on the steamer City of Para from Aspinwall, and the ship was detained in quarantine. The last cases occurred the 11th. She will be allowed to come to the city to-morrow, if no new cases break out in the meantime.

TO-DAY'S WEATHER

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Pacific coast: fair weather; California partly cloudy weather, local rains followed by fair weather.

POLITICAL POINTS.

COMMENT ON CLEVELAND'S SELECTIONS

NEW YORK, March 24.—The Sun says of Phelps' appointment: No political reason whatever is apparent for giving such an office to a citizen of Vermont, as that state is hopelessly republican.

The Herald in interviewing well known New Yorkers on the appointments found Hubert O. Thompson, who said: Cleveland's appointments so far have gratified all his democratic friends in New York, but the nomination of Phelps of Vermont as minister to Great Britain is a great disappointment to every democrat in this state.

The Herald reports a well known lawyer as saying: This list of nominations must have proved a shudder to old time politicians, when young [illegible] is pushed to the front and such old war horses as Thurman and McDonald are forgotten. There is not a war horse in the lot. Worse than this, the first mission in the heap has gone to Vermont, the most hide-bound and moss-grown republican state in the union. It is a warning to politicians that they may as well take down their banners from the outer walls and cut them up into bandages or shrouds.

A late senator said: Phelps was associated with T. W. Park in several railroad lawsuits and is known in Wall street as a railroad lawyer.

THE FIGHT AGAINST HIGGINS

BALTIMORE, March 24.—A communication from the committee of the Civil Service Reform Association to Secretary Manning upon Eugene Higgins was disclosed to-day. It begins with 1875, when Higgins is charged with having violated ballot boxes during Governor Carroll's election. After the election and while the ballots were in the office of the clerk of the superior court he is charged with having fraudulently destroyed the ballots of one party and with substituting the tickets of the other party. In 1879 he is charged with having gone to the Clarksville district of Howard county, and having been the champion bulldozer of that district, under a rowdy alias, and with a pistol and whisky bottle in hand he terrorized quiet citizens and illegally voted hundreds of negroes and others brought from the outside by the assistance of the district register and other conspirators. Again he is charged with being a lobbyist and with holding an interest in a gambling house.

McDONALD RETURNS FROM WASHINGTON

INDIANAPOLIS, March 24.—McDonald has returned from Washington. It is ascertained that he was offered the Russian mission but he would not accept it. He wanted Indiana represented in the cabinet and told Cleveland so, who promised him that Indiana shall not be long neglected.

DEMOCRATIC CITY CONVENTION

CINCINNATI, March 24.—The democratic city convention this afternoon nominated George [illegible] for mayor on the first ballot.

RAILROAD NOTES

OPERATIONS OF THE UNION PACIFIC

BOSTON, March 24.—A summary of the operations of the Union Pacific railway for the year 1884 has been made public. It is as follows: For the first six months earnings, excluding the St. Joseph and Western railroad, were $14,738,100, expenses $8,807,000, taxes $549,000. The surplus earnings of the entire system for the last six months of 1884 were $[illegible]381,000. Other reports from miscellaneous sources make a total income of $7,852,000, against a total income for the first six months of the year of $7,849,000. The expenditures for the last six months were $[illegible]. Of this amount $2,474,000 was paid for interest on bonds. The total surplus for the last six months of the year was $4,096,091. From this is deducted $[illegible] for the United States.

During the past year there have been expenses and losses in the receipts not likely to occur again. There was an increase in taxes of $[illegible] owing to a new law in Nebraska. Tolls due from the St. Joseph & Western road to the St. Joseph Bridge Building Company have not been paid. These tolls amounting to $101,86[illegible] are properly receipts of the system. They will soon be paid. Accumulated deficiencies upon accounts and disputed credits since the consolidation in 1880 have been charged off against the surplus income of 1884, which has sufficed to meet them all after paying a dividend of 1¾ per cent and yet have a balance of $1,023,444, equal to 1.10 per cent on the company's capital stock. The total outstanding funded debt of the company, which does not include the funded debts of auxiliary independent organizations in which the company is interested, amounted December 31, 1884, to $84,174,285, as compared with $84,[illegible] December 31, 1883, the previous year showing an increase for the year of $333,[illegible]. The net reduction of the entire debt, funded and floating, during the year was $778,000. Land sales of the company during the year after deducting sales canceled were 48,101 acres for the Union Pacific proper, which realized $[illegible],773, for the Kansas Pacific [illegible],586 acres, amount realized $1,31[illegible].

HUNTINGTON INTERVIEWED

NEW YORK, March 24.—A Tribune correspondent has interviewed Huntington, who says: My dispatches show that an agreement about the transcontinental traffic has been reached. I telegraphed the traffic manager exactly what I would do and to-day I hear from him that my terms have been accepted. It is rumored on the street, I believe, that I have backed down, but I pay no attention to that kind of gossip. As to the Pacific Mail, we all admit the necessity of appeasing it, and the transcontinental lines have agreed, I understand, to unite in paying it a subsidy. We shall not pay it as much as we have been paying, for we have been giving it altogether too much. I don't blame the Pacific Mail for talking about a larger sum, which it is going to demand. I am neither buying nor selling stocks, and consequently I am not in a position to profit by such proceedings. The fact simply is that we shall reduce the amount of the subsidy.

MUST HAVE AN OFFICE IN THE STATE

AUSTIN, Tex., March 24.—The house bill to compel railroad companies and other corporations doing business in Texas to maintain a general office in the state passed the senate this afternoon. The penalty for violation of the act is fixed at $[illegible] per month.

CRIMINAL CALENDAR

A FIENDISH REVENGE

LAREDO, Tex., March 24.—In the town of Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, a Mexican was jealous of his mistress, a young Mexican girl of about 15. Going to her room in daylight, he locked the door, divested her of all her clothing, securely tied her to the wall with heavy ropes and then deliberately proceeded to cut strips of flesh from various parts of her body, and under threats of cutting out her heart he compelled the victim to eat her own flesh. Her frantic screams finally brought assistance just as the inhuman fiend had finished cutting off the end of her tongue. The brute was arrested and put in jail. His victim is dying this evening.

THE TRIAL OF FISH

NEW YORK, March 24.—The trial of Fish of the Marine bank was continued to-day. The prosecution closed yesterday and the defense opened this morning, and moved for dismissal of the charges against Fish on the ground that no offense had been proved.

NEVIN GETS TEN YEARS

ADRIAN, Mich., March 24.—Thomas J. Nevin, [illegible], was arraigned in the circuit court this morning on a charge of forgery. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to ten years in the state prison.

A YOUTHFUL SHOOTER

CARLETON, Mich., March 24.—Charles Mexicott, aged 1[illegible], and his nephew Dan Mexicott, aged 10, quarreled yesterday, and to-day Dan shot his young uncle. The result will probably be fatal.

A DRUGGIST'S STORY. Mr. Isaac C. Chapman, Druggist, Newburg, N. Y., writes us: "I have for the past ten years sold several gross of DR. WILLIAM HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS. I can say of it what I cannot say of any other medicine. I have never heard a customer speak of it but to praise its virtues in the highest manner. I have recommended it in a great many cases of Whooping Cough with the happiest effects. I have used it in my own family for many years. In fact, always have a bottle in the medicine closet ready for use."

THE FIRE RECORD.

The Fight of Sunday Severer than First Supposed.

OSMAN DIGMA CHANGES HIS PLAN

The Situation between Russia and England Very Critical—Barrios Marching on San Salvador with 15,000 Men

SUAKIM, March 24.—Sappers are now engaged in making a road through the brush toward Tamai. A convoy of provisions and water go to the zereba, the scene of Sunday's battle. Osman Digma's famous chief Taggiah was killed in Sunday's fight.

SUAKIM, March 24.—The Egyptian troops will be shipped back to Cairo to-morrow. A prisoner reports that Osman Digma's men at Tamai are sending all the women and children back into the hills and preparing to make a desperate resistance to the British advance. The Shropshire regiment accompanied by convoys has started to join General McNeill at the Hasheen zareba.

Last returns regarding the casualties of Sunday's engagement show that including Indian troops and exclusive of camp followers, six officers and ninety four men were killed and six officers and 136 men wounded. One officer and seventy men are reported missing.

SEVERAL SKIRMISHES

The guards and marines, while advancing from the Hasheen zereba to-day to meet a convoy from Suakim had several musketry skirmishes with the rebels, during which sixteen British were wounded and one killed.

NOTES FROM THE FRONT

Osman Digma has ordered his Arabs not to attack the British positions in the entrenched zereba upon the road to Tamai, but to intercept and destroy all convoys of water and provisions so as to starve the garrisons. Dead Arabs found upon the field near Tamai after the recent engagements were very much emaciated, proving that Osman Digma is short of food.

Two powerful native tribes have rebelled against El Mahdi.

A scarcity of camels delays the advance on Tamai.

In the attack upon the guards and marines to-day several Arabs were killed. Armed women were seen among the rebels.

The transport and commissariat of the British service lost 150 men killed in Sunday's engagement near Tamai.

NOTES FROM LONDON

LONDON, March 24.—Advices from Suakim state that the country between Suakim and the zerebas is swarming with Arabs.

The Diritto of Rome alludes to the fight of Sunday as a tremendous defeat of the British which will inspire with new courage the whole Arab world and make it necessary for Italy to send 2000 more troops to Massowah in order not to risk beginning a campaign with such experience as that of General Graham's expedition.

THE CAMPAIGN VERY CRITICAL

LONDON, March 24.—The war office is dissatisfied with General Graham's management of the advance and he will probably be recalled.

The St. James Gazette denounces the incapacity shown at headquarters and says: This terrible military scuffle would never have happened if Generals McNeill and Graham had taken the precautions which should have occurred to a cadet. The general press comments in the same tone.

It is reported that 300 students in the Latin quarter are coming on Thursday night to make a demonstration against the American. Despite organized opposition to Miss Van Zandt the house is crowded nightly.

MEXICO.

A THREAT OF WAR.

MEXICO, March 24.—Mariscal, minister of foreign affairs, informs the associated press correspondent that he had just received news that Barrios had invaded San Salvador with 15,000 men, he added: "If the moral disapproval of Mexico and the United States has no effect upon President Barrios, more decided action may be necessary. While devoting all our energies to international construction we would deplore the necessity of a foreign war."

THE ALASKAN BOUNDARY QUESTION

OTTAWA, March 24.—In the house of commons Gordon moved for copies of all correspondence bearing reference to the appointment of a joint commission with the United States government for surveying the boundary line between British Columbia and the United States territory of Alaska. He stated that to-day the boundary was practically undefined. So long as there were no troubles there this was all right, but a New York paper had stated recently that an American armed expedition, under Lieutenant Schwatka, had traveled [illegible]000 miles into British territory east of Alaska and Lieutenant Allen was now conducting an expedition 300 or 400 miles into British territory. He could hardly believe their statements true, seeing that on the Pacific coast Canadians and Americans lived very harmoniously. He would like to hear from the government on the point and would be pleased if assurance could be given that the boundary line would shortly be surveyed.

The minister of public works said the attention of the government had been directed to the article from the New York paper. He inquired into the truthfulness of the article and found there was no foundation for it. The importance of having the boundary surveyed had received the attention of the government. It would not overlook the matter. Gordon's motion was carried.

TO RESTRICT CHINESE IMMIGRATION

NEW YORK, March 24.—The Herald's Ottawa special says: The Dominion government will introduce a bill on Tuesday which will provide for a poll tax upon every Chinaman entering Canada, and will restrict the number of Chinese immigrants to be received by steamship or sailing vessels trading between China and this country on the basis of so many per ton for the capacity of such vessel. It is also intended to require registration of the names and location of all Chinese entering the country, so that in the event of any being required in criminal cases or for purposes of municipal taxation their whereabouts may be readily ascertained. One of the features of the bill will be enforcement of rigid sanitary law. The poll tax will only apply to Chinese women and laborers, and not to merchants, bankers or other professional classes of Chinese.

THE INDIAN UPRISING

OTTAWA, March 24.—No doubt the government has received dispatches to-night of very grave importance in connection with the rebellion at Prince Albert. It is reported in the lobbies that Indians are joining Riel and his half breeds and serious trouble is apprehended. A reverend gentleman at Colquary having great influence among the Indians has been sent on a mission to the chiefs of Crow and Blackfeet bands, to prevent them joining the rebels. A conflict between the rebels and mounted police has already taken place and several government officials were made prisoners. General Middleton left to-night for Winnipeg to assume command of the militia and mounted police. There is great excitement at the house.

CALIFORNIA.

PARTICULARS OF HANLAN'S RECENT VICTORY

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24.—The City of Sydney arrived this afternoon from Australia and brings particulars of the Hanlan-Clifford boat race which took place at Sydney February 7, and was won by Hanlan. The match was for £1000. An immense gathering of people was present. Clifford was first to grip the water. He rowed thirty four to the minute and Hanlan thirty-eight. Clifford's work at the start attracted all the attention. It seemed to promise something prodigious, but surprise dwindled away as Hanlan gradually drew up. For half a mile Clifford made a splendid race, Hanlan contenting himself to keep near enough to watch him without trouble. Hanlan then dropped his stroke to thirty two, and the old smile indicative of victory settled on his face. After gauging the remaining distance Hanlan drew quickly away to three lengths ahead, then to four and five. Clifford, who was pulling manfully, spurted, but Hanlan met him and put another length between him. As they passed the Sydney rowing club Hanlan was nine lengths ahead. He then slackened and finished winner by seven lengths. Hanlan was loudly cheered.

It has transpired that the cargo of steel rails on board the steamship Euphrates, lately arrived from England, and now being landed at Port Moody, which is ostensibly owned by the Canadian Pacific railway, is in the hands of an eastern bank which made advances thereon. WEDNESDAY MORNING, MARCH 25, 1885

JUDGE BOISE AGAIN.

True to his habit of demagogy and falsehood, Judge Boise a few days ago made a speech at Albany, in which he is reported, by a paper friendly to his "work," as saying

By a section of the revised statutes it was provided that navigation on the river should be in competition with the railroad, and that no corporation or member of a corporation engaged in it should hold stock or interest in the railroad. The freight was only $1 50 per ton to Salem. The through corporate interests controlled [illegible] the rumor resulting in the O R & N Co. was [illegible] and immediately freight went up [illegible]. As it is estimated 500,000 tons annually pass north, the amount is easily figured out. A law similar to the section mentioned should be passed

That law was absurd, and no one knows it better than Judge Boise. There is no more ground for a statute to prohibit a man from owning stock both in a railroad and in a steamboat line than for a statute to forbid him to raise both wool and hops. It was altogether proper to remove so ridiculous and inoperative an act from the statute book. Moreover, rates of freight since then have been lower than they were before that act was repealed. Again, it is estimated by no one except Judge Boise that "500,000 tons of freight annually pass north." The total number of tons carried both ways on the east and west roads during 1884 was 154,428 tons, of which 108,598 tons came north. Of this last amount 82,841 tons consisted of wheat and other grains and flour. Further, from July 1, 1883, to June 30, 1884, the boats of the O R & N. Co. carried north 32,718 tons. We have not the exact statement of shipments by other boats, but the amount was comparatively small. So that, instead of 500,000 tons a year being shipped north out of the section through which steamboat navigation furnishes more or less competition with the railroads—that is, out of the Willamette valley—as Judge Boise asserts, the total carried both ways cannot much exceed 200,000 tons a year; and this includes all the freight as far as the southern line of Oregon, and part of that of northern California. The above is a specimen of Judge Boise's habitual manner. He falsifies and misleads either through ignorance or intention. Such has been his habit for years, and he has done the country more injury thereby than any other twenty men in it. Hereafter it will be part of the regular duty of THE OREGONIAN to watch his falsifications and denounce them (and him) as they deserve.

PROHIBITION IN IOWA.

In Iowa the constitutionality of the prohibitory liquor law has been sustained on all points by the supreme court of the state. The opponents of the law have given up the hope of victory through the courts, but will concentrate their efforts upon the election next fall, believing that the legislature then to be chosen will be democratic, and will repeal the law. This judgment is probably correct. It has been apparent for three or four years past that prohibition would ultimately make Iowa a democratic and free liquor state. Last fall Blaine carried it by a plurality of only 18,000. But for the prohibition question his majority would have been 100,000. Great numbers of republicans in Iowa, who have remained with their party hitherto in spite of prohibition, because they wanted to beat the democrats on questions of national policy, will now act with it no longer if prohibition is disposed of. In the last legislature of Iowa the division between the parties was extremely close. In the house the republicans had only four majority, in the senate their majority was saved by members who held over from the preceding election. The result of the last presidential election has taken national politics out of the contest for the present, the democrats now being in power at Washington there is no longer a dread of their coming in, and republicans consequently are going to vote on local questions without reference to national politics—a thing they have not done for the last twenty-five years. The democrats are solid against prohibition, and republicans who disapprove it are not going to tolerate it further in such states as Iowa where it is made a party question, in order to support their party. Prohibition in Iowa is doomed, and we believe the state in the next election will go democratic.

IN A COLD SWEAT.

Concerning the offices, and the failure of the pilgrims to get the appointments they had "slated" for themselves, the Standard remarks "The offices will be filled with care and discretion, but not rashly. Great deliberation is required on the one hand, and a philosophic spirit on the other." There is "deliberation," undoubtedly. The man in shirt sleeves is exercising that. But is there "philosophic spirit?" It requires a good deal of imagination to support it very prominent or bulbous in the gentlemen who are on the way home from the national capital.

When they started it did not occur to them that there was need of "deliberation." It was not imagined that "care and discretion" would cause any delay in the filling of the offices, nor was it supposed that in the greatest haste there could be any "rashness." Otherwise the brethren who imagined themselves "victors" and went to the capital for "spoils" never would have undertaken the journey. The "philosophic spirit" would have stolen sweetly over them, without enforcement or compulsion. It comes now, as the celebrated Mr. Micawber remarked of his own detention in jail for debt, through circumstances over which they have no control.

If this "deliberation" on the part of the president continues throughout his term of office the democratic brethren, with all the "philosophic spirit" they can cultivate, will be too sick to go any more to the polls.

The La Grande Gazette says of the contemplated reduction works in this city "It will be a god-send to Baker, Union and Grant counties, if they do, for tons of refractory ores that are very rich will be shipped from these counties and will prove profitable to mine owners, while the owners of the works will be amply remunerated." The above remark is but a sample of many being continually made by newspapers published in the various mining districts of Oregon, Washington and Idaho. Were Denver in the position of Portland it would not be six months before thousands of tons of ore would be pouring into the city from every available district. There is no question as to the value of a large reduction works plant in Portland and if our capitalists will furnish the money experienced managers and assistants can easily be found to make them a success. Even the papers of Wood river, which district will turn out $5,000,000 this year, are working in the interest of Portland and would gladly give us the trade if we would take their refractory ore and work them up. Portland would absolutely have no rival nearer than Denver and that has, and we can work up ores more cheaply than they.

The discovery of the new anæsthetic, cocaine, will have the effect of silencing many of the objections offered to vivisection, as by its use operations that are now condemned by many good people may be made without causing suffering to the animal operated on. Vivisection for the purpose of explaining to a class of students what is already known to science, or for amusement, is the very acme of cruelty, but when performed for the purpose of discovering some truth important to the welfare of the human race, it may be condoned, especially when rendered painless to the victim, as it may be by the use of this new discovery of medical science.

There is a peculiar impropriety in senators going to the White House at the head of delegations to urge an office-seeking favorite upon the president, because senators have, under the constitution, to "advise and consent" in their sworn official capacity, to the president's nominations—that is to say, they have to sit in judgment upon them in the senate as judges. Therefore they put themselves in a false position when they allow themselves, to oblige friends, to become partisans of men who take such very doubtful means as the "pressure of delegations" to obtain office. Senator Edmunds recognized the impropriety of this several years ago, and has not asked a president to appoint any man to any office. From his connection with the electoral commission it was supposed that he would have great influence with President Hayes, and he might have had it, but he persistently refused to intercede for the appointment of any of his friends. The most that he has consented to do is to promise that, if the president asked him for an opinion respecting the qualifications of an applicant for office, he would tell what he thought.

An eastern paper suggests as a remedy for the silver coinage evil that all congressmen be paid off in eighty-five-cent dollars. This would be tainly be a summary method of cutting short the discussion.

THE YAKIMA COUNTRY.

The Situation of North Yakima and its Prospects—Extraordinary Scene of Energy

NORTH YAKIMA, 18th of March.

The prime advantage of the new town of North Yakima over the old town is its location with reference to the several valleys which meet in the Ahtanum plain. These tributary valleys enter the Ahtanum on its north, east and western sides. The old town sits at the extreme southern point and the new town is in the middle of the plain four miles to the north and so, just four miles nearer what must be the larger settlements of the country. The elevation of the new town above the old is eighty feet, which gives it the advantage of a firmer foundation and it is sufficiently removed from the south gap to escape the severe drifts in and out the valley. These advantages much more than compensate for the increased distance from the reservation and the Indian trade, particularly as the latter must be diverted soon to some locality on the railroad nearer the center of Indian population. With so many points in favor of a new location it is not surprising that North Yakima was founded. It is only surprising that an attempt was made to force its adoption through arbitrary means by people who would naturally have come to it if they had simply been left to pursue their own best interests. North Yakima has been established with the expectation that it will grow into a large and important town, and it has the advantage of

STARTING OUT RIGHT

Its streets are wide with ample provision for irrigation and shade and its blocks are divided with deep alleyways. It is built on a gravel bed barely topped with soil and its location with reference to the Natchez river gives it an abundant and unfailing water supply. The railroad company, through the manager of its land department, Mr Paul Schulze, who is on the ground, is doing all that can be done for the future good of the town. An irrigating ditch capable of supplying all the water needed is under construction and will be done and in operation in ten days. Trenches are being run through every street and each house holder will have the privilege, free of charge, of tapping these trenches to supply his private grounds. The system is an admirable one and a credit to its engineer and superintendent Mr Owen. Contracts have been let for the planting of 1000 shade trees immediately, and as soon as these trees can grow, in two or three years, the town will be beautifully shaded.

THE ENERGY

Put forth in the building of the town seems marvelous even to one accustomed to enterprise as it was manifest in the building of Spokane Falls, Cheney, Sprague and other towns along the line of the Northern Pacific. North Yakima is now only six weeks old and yet it has no less than a hundred and fifty houses. Most of them it is true are mere shells, quite innocent of ornament or even of paint, but they serve to do business in and are not liked to stay. The newness of everything is bewildering. The clatter of a hundred hammers fills the air and the scene looks more like the hurry of preparation on the opening day of a fair than the serious business of making a permanent city. The houses are new, the streets look raw and new, even the picks with which laborers are grading them have not had time to grow old.

A circumstance which illustrates the nervous energy of the place is that the town has a board of trade, an organized church, a Masonic lodge, before it has a [illegible]. Uncle Sam cannot keep up with a procession whose marching [illegible]. Think of a town in which there is not yet a single dwelling house but which has a Masonic hall.

These things are amusing, to me, but they seem natural enough to a population which seems to stop to sleep and never stops to shave. Haste here to-day is the very spirit and essence of progressive American, the spirit which has subdued this continent. There is, in all something of the energy which makes every man here walk and talk on the double quick and which makes every horseman ride on a gallop. But fortunately for the future health of the town there has been no delay in provision for proper sanitary regulations. Mr Schulze insisted upon this from the beginning and rules have been adopted which will keep the town practically free from unwholesome accumulations.

It will not be possible to establish a legal government till the legislature gives authority, but a plan is now being drawn up and it will be submitted for legislative sanction in September. In the meantime the town is governed by common consent through a committee of which Mr R M Mitchell of the railroad land department is the chairman, and is the ex officio mayor.

SOME OUTSIDE ADVANTAGES

The surrounding country is naturally tributary to the town but it is the purpose of the railroad company to make the entrance to it easy and parties are in the field locating roads which will lead directly into it. It is certain that the region hereabout will support a population of many thousands of people and they in turn will support a considerable city. North Yakima must be that city. Its location is very nearly the geographical center of the territory and in the direct line of travel between the great sections of the country, which the railroad is finished to Puget sound, gives it a strong claim for the capital and the visitor is already shown the site where the state house of Washington will stand.

Although North Yakima is in a treeless district, it can easily and cheaply be supplied with wood and lumber. The Natchez and Yakima rivers just above run through timbered regions and it is a very simple and easy matter to float down all the timber required not only by the town but by the surrounding country. The railroad sawmill at Ainsworth draws its entire supply of logs from the headwaters of the Yakima river and many thousands of the ties used on the Northern Pacific and Oregon railway roads came from the same district. The town can besides be easily and cheaply supplied with coal from the Cle elum mines seventy miles to the north.

No town in the county on the whole ever had a better start. It is in the midst of a magnificent country already sufficiently populated to afford a fair local trade, it will be the headquarters of the Northern Pacific railroad in eastern Washington with its shops and army of workmen, and its climate and climate are favorable for health. It will I believe enjoy all manner of prosperity. A H

THE UMATILLA RESERVATION.

Provisions of the Bill for Establishing the Indians in Severalty and for Selling the Reservation

The bill for allotment of lands in severalty to the Indians of the Umatilla reservation and providing for the sale of the larger part of the reservation after such settlement passed both houses of congress and was duly signed by the president. It comes into effect at once, but several months will be required to treat with the Indians and to accomplish the preliminary business of surveying, appraising, etc, and it is not likely that the actual sale of the lands will come off during the present year. The bill gives to each Indian, the head of a family 160 acres, to each single person over 18 years of age and to each orphan under that age eighty acres, and to each child under 18 not otherwise provided for forty acres. Allotments for families and for minor children are to be made upon the selection of the head of such family. All allotments to persons [illegible] all [illegible] [illegible] the department. The allotments are to [illegible] agricultural land.

In addition a reasonable amount of pasture [illegible] not to exceed 120,000 acres is to be reserved for the use of the Indians in common and besides this 640 acres must be set aside for an industrial farm and school. For the purpose of locating the Indians and for selecting the reserved lands a commission of three persons is to be appointed by the president. It is their business further to arrange with the Indians for their location, and after the necessary surveys have been made, to report their work to the secretary of the interior who will in turn report to the president. If the president approves he will cause patents to issue to the individual Indians, which shall declare that the government will hold the lands thus allotted for twenty-five years in trust for the sole use and benefit of the Indian to whom it has been given. At the end of twenty-five years the government will convey the same and to each Indian or to his heirs free of all incumbrance whatever. It is provided that the laws of descent and descent in force in this state shall apply after patents have been granted and it is further provided that any Indian not desiring to take land under the bill and who shall prefer to leave the reservation and settle in the [illegible] [illegible] the value of the [illegible] right to take land [illegible] [illegible] shall be [illegible] [illegible] to time for his benefit or subsistence [illegible] [illegible] [illegible].

After the Indians have [illegible] [illegible] the land remaining [illegible] [illegible] appraised and offered for [illegible] by the [illegible] to the highest bidder [illegible] [illegible] sum than the appraised [illegible] lands shall be [illegible] [illegible]. [illegible] shall be [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] be allowed to purchase more than 160 acres of agricultural and 160 acres of timber land. It is provided and a strict [illegible] that [illegible] shall buy for himself and for his own use [illegible]. One third of the purchase price of agricultural land must be paid down, one third in one year, and the remaining third in two years with interest at [illegible] per cent on the deferred payments. Payment for timber lands must be immediate. Where there are improvements upon the lands they must be appraised by the commission and paid for separately.

The land allotted to the Indians is inalienable for twenty-five years and any contract or lien created during that period shall be absolutely void. No patent shall issue to a purchaser of agricultural lands under this act till he has resided upon it one year and has reduced twenty-five acres to cultivation. No patent shall issue till all payments have been made, and in case there should be failure to make the deferred payments at any time it shall be sold over again under the same regulations, and if it shall sell for more than the first time the residue shall be paid over to the first purchaser. It is provided that fractions of sections abutting upon the reservation lines and made fractional because of the reservation lines and occupied by pre-emptors or homesteaders may be made complete by proper extension of the lines with title to the holders. The state of Oregon is entitled to select in lieu of school lands of the state [illegible] the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections [illegible] in the reservation as it now exists. The water right of the Pendleton waterworks company is, before granted, secured so long as it is restricted to a reasonable use of water.

Twenty per cent of the fund arising from the sale of lands shall be devoted to the use of the Indians in locating upon allotments in severalty; $5000 shall be devoted to the establishment of an industrial farm and school for the education of Indian children, and the interest on the remainder to be expended for support of the school and for such purposes as the secretary of the interior may direct, provided that the Indians shall pledge themselves to send their children between the ages of 7 and 15 to school. For the carrying out of this act $30,000 is appropriated, the government to be reimbursed from the sale of the lands as provided above. To for the act shall go into effect the consent of the Indians shall be obtained * * * expressed in writing and signed by a majority of the male adults and by a majority of their chiefs in council." The duty of carrying out the provisions of the bill and of adjudicating all disputes is charged upon the secretary of the interior.

A majority of the Umatilla Indians have expressed a desire to hold land in severalty. "They will be glad by the sale of the land which they do not need to acquire the means necessary for a fair start on their several allotments. The present bill fully meets their approval and there is no doubt that they will readily give their assent to it. The reservation which was established by treaty of June 9 1855 contains 268,800 acres or 420 square miles, 150,000 of which is tillable. The number of Indians on the reservation as shown by the report of the present year is 855—499 males and 356 females.

YAMHILL NOTES.

MCMINNVILLE, March [illegible].

We are needing rain, so some of the farmers say, others say not.

Captain W S Powell of Dayton has bought property in Portland and will move there soon.

One hundred and eleven cases on the circuit docket at Lafayette this week, several foreclosures of mortgages.

The W R C are making extensive preparations for an entertainment and supper on Saturday evening at Mohawk hall.

Miss Susie Loughary has been visiting a week at her brother's, Judge Loughary, at Lafayette. She returned on Saturday.

The wheat in the warehouses at North Yamhill has about all been shipped except a small amount on hand and for seed and bread.

W P Sweeney died at Dayton on Saturday and was buried by Custer post G A R. He served in the navy on board the Pensacola during the war.

J B Longacre, who owns a farm six miles west of here, returned from a visit east on Saturday. He visited the New Orleans exposition, and brings home a wife.

A L Newgard and W P Galentine, citizens of our town, started on foot last Friday to investigate the big Nestucca country, with a view to finding claims for homes.

Doc Apperson has bought the interest of R L Hartman, his partner, in the general merchandise business. Mr Jacob Wortman has been employed to take charge of the store.

While other portions of the state are advertising their advantages, it seems that our county should do something to get its share of the emigration soon to pour into the state. The change from western extravagance and debt to eastern economy, by the advent of the railroad, has brought many valuable homes under the sheriff's hammer and tens of thousands of acres are in the market at a sacrifice. The first and the old donation claims in Oregon are hunting buyers, in a country traversed its entire length and breadth by railroads. Surely no county offers a finer chance for a home with diversified farming or a better field for live real estate agents.

The Boca

The celebrated Boca Saloon of Frank Keller has been removed from No. 43 Second street to the corner of First and Pine streets, occupying commodious apartments, which have recently been fitted up throughout. The walls are covered with a cheerful looking paper and adorned with numerous interesting pictures and a couple of magnificent mirrors. In the rear of the main room are private rooms in a comfortable style, which are entirely disconnected from the main front room, and are reached by a spacious hall from Pine street. These are intended for families who may wish to stop and take a glass of wine or beer and a lunch, being entirely private and quiet and respectable in all things. The Boca is noted for the excellent quality of its refreshments, always having choice brands of wines and liquors. Portland beer and all the famous foreign brands of beer, ale, etc., in bottles, accompanied by a quality of lunch which would delight and surprise a man who has ever had the misfortune to tackle one of those mysterious institutions in a railroad eating house.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

WHO IS HE DEFINITE?—A copy of the Atlantic (Iowa) Daily Telegraph of March 11 was received at this office yesterday with the pencil marks around the following paragraph: "A letter has just been received by a lady in Atlantic from a lady in Portland, Oregon, inquiring after our Theodore Cushing, who has been calling himself off as a young man, and is about to be married to an accomplished and beautiful young lady of that city, whom he is undoubtedly deceiving. The letter states that when he first met this young lady he told her he had thought he never would be suited until he met her. He is described as being a commercial traveler, about 38 years of age, a very active member in the Presbyterian church, rather under medium hight, light complexioned and as neat as a pin. It is undoubtedly Theodore. He is making a mash through his religion, for he can pray like a Pharisee. If the young lady could read the proceedings of the church trial held here, on which evidence he was expelled from the church, and also the petition for the divorce, records of the courts, depositions and all else connected with his career in this locality, she would postpone proceedings indefinitely." It will be well enough for the Portland lady to inform the public just who this Theodore is. Does he still travel under the name of Cushing? If he is such a person as the Telegraph makes him out to be this public ought to be placed in a position to recognize him.

A WINDY DAY.—About noon yesterday, a strong breeze sprung up in the north and kept coming in lively gusts for three hours. It raised the accumulations of three weeks' dust and blew it in unpleasant clouds over everything and everybody, and wasn't at all welcome. The big Stark street ferry, which was moored on the east side near Hogue's mill, was driven amid stream together with a boom of logs to which she was lashed. The Lurline came to her assistance and towed her down the river to the lower side of the I street landing. People along shore enjoyed the fine sight of a large schooner-rigged scow, the Queen of the Bay, loaded with 50,000 brick, coming up before the wind, both sails filled. It took fine work from the man at the wheel to keep the vessel from moving on the pivotal pier of the Morrison street bridge, but the wind remained steady for several minutes and by careful management, the schooner got to the Morrison street dock without injury to herself or to several steamboats in close proximity. Quite a crowd watched the movements of the craft, confidently expecting some sort of an accident by collision. Several adventurous men went out for rides in sail boats and enjoyed the exhilarating, though dangerous sport. Toward four o'clock the wind died down, and the delightful early summer weather which has prevailed since early this month continued until midnight.

RATES FOR FRUIT EAST.—The Transcontinental association has made a rate of $1 40 per hundred on green fruit and vegetables from Pacific coast points to Omaha, Kansas City, Council Bluffs, St. Paul and Minneapolis. This is when carried on freight trains. The rate by passenger trains in straight or mixed car load lots is $2 40 per hundred. To St. Louis the rate is $1 45 and $2 85 respectively, and to Chicago, $1 50 and $3. When carried by passenger trains the fruit will be shipped in cars specially constructed for that purpose and almost perfect in ventilation. The rate above mentioned apply to all rail points on the O. R. & N. Co.'s system, and local rates to Portland must be added for points in the Willamette valley. Oregon raises one variety of fruit that will sell readily and command good prices in any market in the world where the people have money to spare, and that fruit is the cherry. A carload of our Royal Anne and Black Republicans would create ten times as much comment among epicures, as our Chinook salmon did last year, because the fruit is incomparably fine. It will stand three cents a pound freight and leave a good margin. If the present weather keeps up, it will not be long before Oregon can spare several tons of cherries and then have more than enough for home consumption. The fruit growers ought to be making arrangements soon for finding a large market for fruit.

SUING ON A "LOST" NOTE.—A suit was begun yesterday in the state circuit court by J. W. Meredith, as administrator of the estate of J. W. McCaslin against Mrs A. S. Duniway, to recover upon a promissory note for $500 made June 6, 1875, and alleged never to have been paid. The complaint sets up that the note was found among the effects of the deceased, that several unsuccessful efforts were made to collect it, and that finally it was placed in the safe at the office of Thayer & Williams, whence it was once taken to show to Van B. Delashmutt "after which said note was misplaced or lost and cannot now be found." W. H. Chaney is plaintiff's attorney. A son of Mrs Duniway was seen last evening in reference to the suit. He stated that it is a trumped up case—an attempt to extort money on a joint note that was settled years ago—and that the "losing" of the alleged note is a necessary part of the gouging scheme that the parties instigating the suit dare not produce the alleged note, but will endeavor to swear to dates and language to meet the exigencies of the case. He regards the suit as a weak attack on Mrs Duniway that will redound to her assailants' discredit.

BITER BITTEN.—The scoundrels who are trying to work the change "racket" in this city have been successful in several instances that have been heard of, and probably some people have been victimized who have made no sign. An up town saloon keeper, however, beat the thieves at their own game yesterday. A fellow entered a saloon, bought a glass of beer and commenced "monkeying" with the change given for his $5 piece. The barkeeper "tumbled," and grabbed both gold piece and change and put them in his till. He then told the astonished fakir that if he wanted his change he would have to call a policeman. But the fellow did not call him, and passed—out. A boy who had been swindled by one of these sharpers saw him in the theater the other evening and recognized him, but while he went for a policeman the fellow skipped out. All these petty larceny thieves have got to do is to keep up their little game and they will soon be landed in jail.

BENEFITS OF POVERTY.—Indian Bill, a Wasco county aborigine, was yesterday discharged from the county jail, where he has been confined since last December. Bill thought he saw a small fortune in a whisky speculation, but having disposed of some to a companion the fact was discovered by a lynx-eyed deputy United States marshal, and Bill was brought to Portland, tried and convicted. The fine was a small one, but it was coupled with a provision that the culprit should remain in jail until it was paid. Bill has not paid his fine, but obtained his release under what is known as the poor convict act. When he was convicted he had several horses, but they all died during the cold spell, and now he is unable to pay his fine even if he wanted to. Hence he was released. This shows that it is sometimes a good thing to be poor, and is another exemplification of the old adage, "There is no great loss without some small gain."

SEVERAL LITTLE MATTERS.—A special council meeting has been called for to-morrow evening. It is said that the object of the meeting is to make arrangements for putting the city dredger to work, and the matter of street sprinkling may also receive some attention. The city owns no sprinkling carts, those used last season belonging to Holman & Jordan. It is necessary that the streets should be sprinkled and the city will probably have to provide itself with the necessary carts. There is a flutter of excitement among the members of the police force, as it is rumored that there are a number of changes to be made. A councilman who was interviewed on this subject, disclaimed all knowledge of any contemplated changes in the force. But June is coming, and some of the councilmen are going and it is said that there are several things to be fixed before the new members come in.

HORSES AT LARGE.—THE OREGONIAN is in receipt of well-grounded complaints about horses being allowed to run at large on the plateau between Montgomery and Tenth streets and the hills. Monday afternoon a 5-year-old child of Councilman Adams was kicked in the face and very severely injured by a colt running at large in the neighborhood. In this lovely weather, the spot above referred to makes an excellent playground for children, and they ought to be permitted to enjoy it not merely for the pleasure, but for the physical benefit. The city is not supposed to furnish free grass for live stock, and as criminal matters are not rushing, it wouldn't be a bad idea for Chief of Police [illegible] to send the deputy pound master and two or three patrolmen up to the little park [illegible] the hill, let them earn some fees in [illegible] and at the same time teach owners of [illegible] that Portland is not a cattle range.

WEALTHY TRAVELER IMPRISONED.—S[illegible] H[illegible], the [illegible] and only 'Pilgrim [illegible]' who has [illegible] from Maine to Oregon [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] every town he [illegible] [illegible], was [illegible] this city yesterday [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Hazlitt [illegible] [illegible] when he is arrested and he made the court [illegible] the jail ring with his expostulations. From [illegible] of his having loaded himself with so much corn it is thought he must be going to the Sound as a special correspondent for some up country paper.

SUIT [illegible] RECOVER INSURANCE.—[illegible] the [illegible] circuit court yesterday suit was begun by Mrs Elizabeth Stapleton against the Oakland Home Insurance company to recover the amount of $1000 [illegible] to be due her upon a policy covering her three story frame building known as the new [illegible] hotel, on the corner of [illegible] Eighth and [illegible] streets, which was [illegible] by fire. She alleges that by this fire all her property was destroyed, and her loss and damage was $3000. The insurance company has not paid this policy because they believe the fire was an incendiary one. Mrs Stapleton's husband and two others [illegible] [illegible] were arrested upon a charge of arson. One of them had three trials, and all were finally released. It now remains to be seen whether the insurance company can prove what the state was unable to do in a criminal action.

TO RECOVER PERSONAL PROPERTY.—Annie E. Rutherford, as administratrix of the estate of John Rutherford, deceased, has brought suit against R H Thompson and others doing business under the firm name of Thompson, De Har & Co. She alleges that when her husband died he was possessed of a large amount of personal property, consisting of carriage, buggy and blacksmith materials, and that these were taken by defendants upon some process of law and converted to their own use; that the amount to which they were entitled and for which they have accounted is $125, and that there still remains unaccounted for of the property taken $1800 worth. The plaintiff accordingly sues for possession of the property or damages to the amount of $1800. Her attorneys are Messrs Merrill & Heald.

GUILTY OF SIMPLE ASSAULT.—Frank Howard, charged with assault with a deadly weapon upon the notorious courtesan, Mollie Burdin, had a trial yesterday before Judge Stearns and a jury. The evidence of the assaulted party and the other women of her ilk was to the effect that Howard had presented a pistol at her head and threatened to kill her. Testimony upon the part of the defense went to show that the prisoner had no pistol. In closing the case District Attorney Caurin made a powerful appeal for the upholding of the law and the punishment of crime. The defense was conducted by Messrs Caples & Mulkey. The jury were given the case about four o'clock, and after an hour's deliberation they returned a verdict of guilty of simple assault only.

WHO OWNS THE STREETS?—A long time since, certain lands in the western portion of the city were dedicated to the city for public highways, but parts of these lands have never been used for the purpose intended, because there was no particular need for streets in that locality. Joseph Keston has fenced in a lot 60x100 feet in West Main street, and A. N. King has fenced in a piece 60x200 in Nartilla street. At the next meeting of the common council, resolutions will be introduced ordering the street superintendent to remove all obstructions in Nartilla street from Madison to Jefferson and in West Main from Stout to King. If the orders are carried into effect, lawsuits will no doubt result, as the men who have built the fences claim they have had undisputed possession of the property for more than ten years.

HEIGHTENED EXCURSION FROM ST. PAUL.—A party consisting of 150 to 200 persons from leading families of St. Paul and Minneapolis has been organized to make the tour of the Alaska coast. They have agreed to charter one of the steamships of the P. C. S. S. Co., and the Mexico or the Ancon will be placed at their disposal. The vessel will make about the same voyage that the Dakota did two years ago. The excursion party will have an exclusive train over the Northern Pacific and will arrive here early in July, taking the steamer at this port after two days' rest in Portland. No other passengers will be carried to Alaska by the special steamer, except such as are invited by the excursionists. The party will be accompanied by Mr H. C. Davis, assistant general passenger agent of the Northern Pacific.

LOWER CONTRACT DISCOVERED.—D. Halpruner has discovered that he has a contract for changing the gas lamps to burn oil, for doing which the council made a contract with F. Varwig at its last meeting. Mr Halpruner has had the contract for putting in new lamps for the city ever since 1875. Last January, when he renewed his contract, the change from gas to oil was talked of and a clause was inserted specifying that he should change lamps if necessary, at 90 cents for B burners and $1 for D burners, which is considerably less than the price agreed for with Varwig. Mr Halpruner says he is ready to perform the work according to his contract and will hold the council to its bargain. It needs an electric light to see what the outcome of this double contract business is going to be.

HORSES TO CHICAGO.—A train load of bunch grass horses will leave Walla Walla to-day for Chicago. Nine cars come from Dayton, and are shipped by Day & Smith, and one car from Walla Walla, shipped by Small & Co. The rate is $235 a car from Dayton and $225 from Walla Walla. It is not likely that the railroad companies will name a rate low enough to permit cattle to be shipped to Chicago at a profit. A stock raiser at La Grande has made arrangements to ship a carload of sixteen head of horses to San Francisco via Portland. They will go by next week's steamer. The demand for horses in San Francisco is good now and prices are fair, and the shipper has no doubt he will do well in the transaction.

THAT CHURCH SUIT AGAIN.—The effect of Judge Deady's decision in the matter of the Scandinavian Evangelical Lutheran Church against Edward Doering was to dismiss the case. Some time ago the motion requiring the plaintiffs' attorneys to produce their authority was allowed, but they failed to produce what the court considered sufficient and hence the above decision. The suit can be brought again if the attorneys get the proper authority. There was a meeting of the congregation authorizing the bringing of the suit, which the attorneys thought was sufficient, but it was not. They should have had the authority of the board of trustees of the church, which it is quite likely they will get before many days.

LOOSE COW.—A brindle cow, being led from Slabtown to a slaughter house south of the city, took a notion to return home when she arrived at the corner of Washington and Front streets yesterday afternoon. She waved a big fellow who was leading her in the air, broke loose, rammed her head against a barber pole, and galloping Front street, started down it on a run. A little girl, in a red dress, on the sidewalk attracted her attention and she seemed minded to run at the child, but concluded to keep on. Down on B street some boys caught hold of the rope attached to the animal and took a turn around a fire hydrant with it and hove her to. She is still waiting for a pilot, for all known to the contrary.

KEEP THEM CLEAN.—The crossings at the intersections of Second and Morrison streets are in a fearful state owing to the hauling of dirt from the excavations for the two buildings about to be constructed at that point. A street sprinkler passed the place yesterday and rendered the street almost impassable for ladies. This intersection is likely to be kept in an awful mess for several months, and as it is a very much traversed street, being the favorite route to the postoffice, it would be well if the superintendent of street cleaning should give it his particular attention. For the same reason Morrison street should be sprinkled daily.

PREPARING FOR LARGE FISH.—A young man who was busily at work knitting salmon nets yesterday informed an inquisitive reporter that the meshes were of a nine inch caliber. The mesh in general use used to be eight and one-half inches, but it was found that with this size too many small fish were caught and too many large ones got away. As the cannerymen have to pay as much for the small fish as for the large ones, it was concluded to increase the size of the mesh. Now young and tender fish will be spared to grow bigger and better, while the big whoppers who have taken on all the fat they can will be taken in and properly cared for.

AT THE SIXTH OR SIXTY?—The mathematical reporter of THE OREGONIAN spent several days and almost melted his brains in trying to solve the following problem given out by the Boston Globe: "Suppose a circular ten acre lot with a cow within tied to one of the pickets of the fence by a rope. How long will the rope have to be to let the cow graze over just one acre of ground?" At last it dawned upon the figure maker that the problem was insufficiently stated, as it does not set forth whether the rope is to be tied to the cow's tail or her head. He now visits the other fellow make the inquiry more definite and certain.

SIGHT ROW.—A lively skirmish took place between a book binder and a job printer, on the second floor of New Washington street, yesterday afternoon. Some hard talk was indulged in, a window broken, and an umbrella pierced. A [illegible] was [illegible] the fight by the knight of the paste brush. Outsiders at last succeeded in calming the [illegible] [illegible] the time being. As usual [illegible] appears to have been at the bottom of the row.

MORE TRIAL JURORS.—Judge Stearns yesterday issued a venire for six more jurors to serve for the remainder of the term in department No. 1 of the state circuit court. In accordance therewith Sheriff Jordan has summoned the following named persons: David H Harrell, [illegible], Sharp, W. B. Lailets, Owen Cox, William Roberts and Ed Chambreau.

ODD FELLOWS' ANNIVERSARY.—The lodges of Odd Fellows in this city and East Portland have decided to celebrate the 66th anniversary of the founding of that order on the 26th of April, (the anniversary date being the 26th, Sunday.) The programme will include a grand parade in this city, the usual oration and other literary exercises, and a ball in the evening. Arrangements will be made with the railroad companies for round trip fares at one fare from all points in the northwest to this city and return, and it is the intention to make this occasion, if possible, a grand reunion of the Odd Fellows of Oregon and Washington Territory.

FISHERMEN RETURNED.—Several parties who went down the river over a month ago to engage in smelt fishing returned yesterday. The boss of the party succeeded in capturing one smelt, the others did not get even a smelt. They report that there were about eighty men at Coffin Rock, Monticello and points between with boats and nets ready to capture the little fish which never came. At length, tired of waiting, they gave it up as a bad job and came home. Some of the fishermen think that the smelt may come up when the next heavy rain swells the river, but the chance is a very slim one.

PORTLAND A FINE SUPPLY DEPOT.—The numerous colonels who inhabit this region may be surprised to learn that there is now only one colonel in the British army who rose from the ranks, viz. Colonel O'Connor of the Royal Welsh Fusileers, who won his ensign's commission at the battle of Alma in 1854. If the British are hard up for colonels, they can be supplied with assorted lots to order from the large number residing here, of whom it is not deemed advisable to give a list at present, as there is no wish to discriminate.

SAME OLD NUISANCE.—A correspondent wishes the attention of the police called to "a fearful nuisance" on Third street, between Taylor and Salmon, in the shape of stagnant suds oozing under the sidewalk from a Chinese wash house. This nuisance has excited them for several years and columns have been written about it. The abatement of it seems hopeless, but perhaps the present health officer and his assistant may be able to secure its abolishment. If so, they will earn the thanks of the residents of that vicinity.

GRAND LODGE I. O. G. T.—Judge Tozier of Hillsboro, grand worthy chief templar of the grand lodge of the Independent Order of Good Templars for the state of Oregon, is in the city making arrangements with the O. & C. railroad for transportation of delegates to the grand lodge which holds its next annual session at Roseburg June 16. If possible he will charter a special car, to be attached to the regular train, and carry delegates from all points along the east side road.

ANOTHER FISH SUPPLY.—Now that the Oregon Pacific road is completed, and there seems a prospect of its being operated sometime in the future, fishermen at Yaquina are looking for a market here for their catch. They have fine oysters at Yaquina and plenty of flounders, "bass," crabs etc., and it seems as if Yaquina should be able to compete with the Sound in supplying this market. But the deep Sea Fishing Company will be the boss, if it ever gets organized.

DUMPING GROUND SECURED.—Councilmen Andrus, Forbes and Holland, Chief of Police Parrish and Superintendent of Streets Vaughn were out yesterday looking at a place for the long-talked of dumping ground for the scavengers. Richard Perkins has offered the city the use of a tract near Guild's lake for three years free of rent, except a little necessary grading. There is ample room and a good dump on the place and the offer will probably be accepted.

SUIT FOR DAMAGES.—Among the cases set for trial in the state circuit court for Yamhill county, which convened Monday, is the suit of Henry T. Withrow of this city against the Oregon and California railroad company for $25,000. Last summer the plaintiff's child, a boy under two years of age fell upon the track at Amity, and both legs were cut off. His recovery was almost miraculous. Damages are asked in the sum mentioned for the terrible maiming for life.

DECISIONS TO BE ANNOUNCED.—Judge Stearns will announce decisions in department No. 2, state circuit court, this morning in the following cases: Rice vs. Rice, demurrer to amended complaint; McMahon vs. McMahon, demurrer to complaint; Hosford vs. Logus, motion for rehearing.

THE STAGE.

THE NEW MARKET.—The second production of Lyla's Dream drew a good house at the New Market last night. It went much smoother than on the opening night and was well received. WEDNESDAY MORNING, MARCH 25, 1885

COMMERCIAL.

WEDNESDAY, March [illegible]

Weather clear and warm during the day and cool at night.

Overland receipts include 100 bales rye, 212 kegs nails.

PRODUCE RECEIPTS—Last 24 hours: 5017 sks wheat, 1561 bbls flour, 175 ctls oats, 181 ctls millstuff, 834 sks potatoes, 465 lbs hides, 11 cs eggs, 111 bxs fruit, 6 pkgs butter. Also 2[illegible] ctls wheat, 1,604 bbls flour, 175 ctls millstuff, 4,380 lbs hides, [illegible] cs eggs from the eastern section.

FREIGHTS—Dull and neglected. The loading fleet is fast filling up but two vessels now unfinished. Probably shippers will turn their attention to new business very soon.

WHEAT—All markets are in good tone to-day and indicate a better condition of affairs. The local market rules quiet without quotable changes.

The wheat fields of northern Idaho are in good condition and crop prospects are excellent. Fall sown grain looks unusually fine, and the weather has been favorable to the completion of spring work. At Walla Walla stalks 14 inches high are shown indicating a healthy growth of fall grain.

OATS—Small business doing, dealers being well supplied. Quotations unchanged.

POTATOES—The indications are that the next steamer will carry lighter shipments than former ones. Prices show no change.

ONIONS—Few choice offering and few dealers care to risk shipments.

EGGS—Supplies more liberal to-day, yet 19@20c is had. The market is expected to show little change.

CHICKENS—Quote $4@4 50.

WOOL—Nothing doing in a local way. The Boston Shipping List of the 14th inst. says: A fair average business has been done the past week, the sales amounting to 2,850,000 pounds of all kinds, but including 1,000,000 California recently received, that was previously disposed of. The tone of the market is not satisfactory and the tendency of prices is to easier rates. Choice fine fleeces are still held with some show of firmness, but no kind of wool could be forced to any extent except at concessions. Manufacturers are purchasing as wanted but are quite indifferent about future supplies and there is no prospect of an improvement in the near future. Holders of wool are beginning to realize this fact and are anxious to close up old stocks as fast as possible. The sales of the week include 24,000 pounds Oregon at 1[illegible]c, 50,000 pounds spring California at 1[illegible]c and 1,015,000 pounds fall do, part at 11c.

Wheat—Spot firm with a fair shipping demand. Sellers very firm in their views and cargoes unobtainable under $1 45. Buyers refuse to pay these prices and give $1 42½ as an extreme bid. On call small business doing. Buyer the season $1 57.

Barley—Spot quiet but firm; receipts small. No 1 feed 82½@8[illegible]c. On call the market is active and higher; seller season 92¼c; buyer season 9[illegible]@90c.

ASSOCIATED PRESS MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, March 24.—Governments ½ higher for 4½ per cents, coupon unchanged for other issues. Railway bonds, quiet and irregular for everything except Nickel Plate 1sts, the total sales of which $682,000 were over half of the total business in all bonds traded in during the day. It opened at 95, rose to 96, broke to 94, and closed at 95½. The break was due to reports that steps would be taken to place the company in the hands of a receiver.

Stocks were irregular, active and feverish. The street was well supplied with rumors throughout the day, some of which upon investigation, proved to have more or less foundation in fact. The first quotations were irregular, but the general market soon developed considerable strength, and the best prices of the day were generally made in the first hour. Early trading was accompanied by heavy sales of Pacific Mail. It is believed insiders of this stock are unloading on each rally.

Rumors industriously circulated the past few days, to the effect that the differences between the Pacific Mail and the Pacific railroads had practically been settled, appear to have no foundation in fact. Pacific Mail officials claim they will not consider a proposition which does not increase the subsidy, while railroad officials are equally positive in their assertions that they will not pay as much as heretofore. It is claimed by persons in a position to know that the next dividend will probably not be paid, the company keeping all its money for the purpose of carrying on the fight with the railroads.

After midday the market became weak, and later in the afternoon there was heavy selling of St Paul and Jersey Central. The strong stocks on the list were Northwestern, Vanderbilts and Gould's. The last mentioned, with the exception of Union Pacific, was very quiet. Gould is expected back to-morrow, but friends say he will probably have little to do with the stock market at present. Trading in St. Paul and Pacific Mail amounted to 115,000 shares, leaving less than 181,000 shares to the remainder of the list.

The third most active stock was Union Pacific, which appears to have lost all friends among the old bull party. A good deal is heard on the street about the probabilities of a thorough investigation by the department at Washington, and probable discoveries that will follow. A synopsis of the annual report given out at the Boston meeting was made public before the close of the board.

SHIPPING INTELLIGENCE

SHIPPING NOTES

The British M[illegible] is receiving [illegible] wheat.

The Burr[illegible] and Jos [illegible] have completed [illegible] and the Kenton probably finish to-day.

In the High Court of Justice, London, Mr. Justice Butt gave his decision on January 1[illegible] in the case of the steamship Madgeburg vs. the ship Henry Villard. The plaintiffs' case was that at the time of the collision the Madgeburg, with a crew of seventeen hands and laden with a cargo of coals, was on a voyage from Sunderland to Constantinople. At about 4:40 A. M. on November 14 last year the Madgeburg was in the English channel between Start Point and Portland, proceeding [illegible] under sail with her fore and main trysails and jib set. The wind was about E N E, a moderate breeze, and the weather was fine and [illegible] dark, the tide being last quarter flood. The Madgeburg was on a west course, making and proceeding at the rate of about eight knots an hour, showing her proper lights. While so proceeding the green light of the Henry Villard was seen about 600 yards off and bearing about four points on the port bow. The helm of the Madgeburg was immediately hard a-ported and her engines stopped, but the two vessels came into collision, the stem of the Henry Villard striking the port side of the Madgeburg with such violence that she sank shortly afterwards and seven of her crew were drowned. A signal of distress was made, but the Henry Villard did not stand by or lower her boats or render any assistance. The defendants' case was that at the time of the collision the Henry Villard, with a crew of twenty-three hands and laden with a cargo of flour, was on a voyage from Portland to London, with a channel pilot on board, and she was close hauled on the starboard tack with her three topsails and [illegible] head [illegible] about N E [illegible] and proceeding at the rate of about from two to three knots an hour. Under these circumstances the masthead and green lights of the Madgeburg were seen bearing just before the starboard beam and about from two to three miles off. The Henry Villard kept her course and the Madgeburg shut in her green and opened her red light, and coming on with great speed with her port side forward struck the starboard bow and stem of the Henry Villard and caused much damage, which made her make a great deal of water. The defendants denied that any signals of distress were burnt or exhibited on board the Madgeburg after the collision.

Mr. Justice Butt held the ship to be free from blame and gave judgment in her favor. The collision doubtless was due to an improper lookout, or to the fact that the steamer had her foresail set, which hid her light.

THE EAST SIDE

SPRAGUE'S SIDE OF THE STORY

Concerning the difficulty at Pioneer engine house Saturday evening, Chief Engineer Sprague states that when he arrived he found the engine fired and smoking in the house, and for this reason ordered it outside; that his order was countermanded by Foreman Meyer, who knew by whose authority it had been removed, and who told him that his (Sprague's) duty was at a fire and not at the engine house; that Meyer used language unbecoming a gentleman and that he called him names that he could not stand; that it is very strange he should be singled out when others were more to blame than he; that the marshal interfered when he had no right to; that he did not defy that officer to arrest him and walked to jail like a gentleman; and that it is very strange he should be accused of three offenses and arraigned for but one.

LUSUS NATURÆ

A hen belonging to Mrs. Elston, residing on Eighth street between J and K, has distinguished herself by hatching a rooster without head or wings; otherwise the formation appears perfect. Its life expired with its escape from the shell. This very curious and unprecedented freak of nature was presented to Dr. Rafferty, who has preserved it in alcohol.

NOTES

George Nel[illegible], the [illegible] employed on the southern section of the O & C road, is here on a visit.

The street commissioner conducted the funeral of three more dead dogs yesterday which had been poisoned during the night.

Clark Lewis and wife have returned from an extended visit to Southern California made for the benefit of Mr. Clark's health, but unfortunately not obtaining the desired result.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Applegate, who have been visiting their sister Mrs. W. Underhill for several months past, will return by the Northern Pacific to-day to their home in Middleton, New Jersey.

An entertainment for the benefit of the poor of East Portland will be given under the auspices of the Library Aid, Dramatic and Literary society at Neppach's hall, Thursday evening, April 2[illegible]. There will be a musical feature under the direction of Prof. Bullock.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

About fifty men are working on the graving dock at Esquimalt and six more will be added to the force this week.

A correspondent of the Calgary Herald, writing from Columbia crossing, B. C., says: Since the thaw two trains per day have been running between the third siding and end of track, and the construction company appear to be doing their level best to provision their camps for the summer and so forward work of every kind connected with the road. There are fifty men at present employed on the construction of the new bridge here. It is not an iron bridge, as has been reported, but a wooden one.

A man named Ellis Milen went out with Chas Randolph from a camp located at Salmon bay, February 24th, for a hunt. They went east to a flat covered with heavy timber. After traveling some hours, toward evening they got into a thicket difficult to get through, and neither knew where they were. Milen, feeling tired, told Randolph to go ahead and he would follow after him. This was the last Randolph saw of his companion alive. After several days search was made and the body of Milen found near where he had been left. He was 25 years old and a native of England.

The Victoria Times says of progress on the Canadian Pacific railroad: Freighting from Laggan to the Columbia costs eight cents per pound, and it is difficult to get transport at that rate. The railway from Kicking Horse pass runs along the east bank of the Columbia to the first crossing, and there the Columbia is bridged by at present a temporary bridge. Between the crossing and the Beaver the line is on the west bank of the Columbia. The work on this portion of the road is heavy, but does not present many engineering difficulties. There is a great deal of rock work and two tunnels, but a great deal of the work being rock, work once constructed will require but little repair. Between Laggan and the Beaver there were seven tunnels constructed during the past season. The line enters the Beaver valley near its mouth and runs up the east side for some miles, where it is to cross by a high Howe truss bridge, thence to the summit, a distance of nineteen miles. From this to the second crossing of the Columbia, a distance of forty-three miles, there is a descent down the valley of the Ille Celle Waet river, now called the Moberly. At the second crossing of the Columbia there will be a large bridge. Here the railway line leaves the Columbia and commences the ascent of the Gold range. The crossing of this range is by the Eagle pass, where the work from the east terminates and connection is made with the Onderdonk work from the west. The connecting point of the work from the east and west is to be Griffin lake, sixteen miles west of the second crossing of the Columbia. During the past season there have been taken out 2,500,000 yards of earth and rock and half a mile of tunneling, besides a large number of bridges erected.

WASHINGTON.

There are 15,000 acres in grain in Skagit county.

A postoffice has been established at Melbourne, about two miles below Montesano.

About 50 acres of amber sugar-cane are being planted in Walla Walla county, near Wawawai.

A party of eighteen emigrants from Everettsville, Illinois, located near Sprague last week.

The new First National bank at Port Townsend will open its doors May 1st, with a capital of $100,000.

The Clark county assessor reports a population of 1500 living between the north and south forks of Lewis river.

John A. Shoudy of Ellensburg, has recently bonded a 5-foot $10 per ton gold quartz lead in the Swauk district, for $25,000.

The Northern Pacific has in its yard at North Yakima acres piled high with ties, rails, piles, timbers, etc., ready for carrying forward the work of construction, and the amount is being daily increased.

The several families of the Wenatchie settlements are in the very best of health and spirits, having enjoyed a happy and social winter season, and now prouder than ever of their delightful climate and prolific soil. The vineyards will double their last summer yield, and grapes and peaches be in abundance to supply the Kittitas market early.

Ainsworth, as a railroad station on the main line of the Northern Pacific, was closed on the 14th of March. Ainsworth has heretofore been the junction point with the Cascade branch, and is abolished because of the necessity of a transfer by water. Hereafter Pasco will be the junction point, it having direct rail communication with the branch.

Settlers on the Olympia marsh, in Skagit county, intend cutting a ditch this summer, about three miles in length, to connect with the Joe Lary's slough, for the purpose of draining the marsh. This is the finest body of unimproved marsh land on the sound, and consists of about 1500 acres—or as much as is contained in the Swinomish flats, to which it is fully equal in richness of soil, and which it will, it is believed, excel when properly drained and cultivated.

OREGON.

Pendleton will erect a $10,000 school house this summer.

Improvements of the value of nearly $10,000 were made in the new town of Medford during February.

Thomas P Kahler is sinking down on his quartz mine, near Rogue river, and securing excellent prospects.

A branch road from Medford to Jacksonville is one of the new things talked of by the citizens of the latter place.

I. Martin of Ashland, who bought a forty-acre tract of L. Applegate last year, has found a ledge of quartz on it. He has sent samples of the ore to Portland for assay.

Josephine county possesses a great natural curiosity in the shape of a subterranean cavern. It is situated in the mountains about twenty miles south of Grants Pass, and has never been thoroughly explored. A party visited it a short time ago and brought home some nice specimens of stalactites, etc.

IDAHO

The grain fields south of Lewiston are looking fine, the crops have sprung up to about three inches in height, and all old farmers say that they expect a finer crop the coming season than they have ever had before.

One day last week while Sam Phinney's little daughter, aged about 2 years, was playing with some pork barrels soaking in a spring, near his place on the Lapwai, she over-balanced herself and fell in and drowned before assistance reached her.

Of the new Hoodoo mines a correspondent in the Lewiston Teller says: All the discoveries that have been made here are in the gulches above Hoodoo, and as a rule they are short and steep—notably Roberts' gulch—and all prospect well and some of them largely, and in no case does the pay extend above the old gravel wash, which is about a quarter of a mile up the gulch. No extensive gravel deposits have been found on the hills as yet, but the limited deposits that have been found are thought to be sufficiently rich to pay.

Fall River Advance: "Sir," said the old lady indignantly, repudiating her son-in-law, "sir, you're a wretch, and I disown you. I won't have you even attend my funeral." "Just like you, ma'am," replied the unabashed one, "you'd deprive me of the greatest pleasure of my life!"

A Portland (Me.) man who wanted to find out how to pronounce Mrs. Hemans' name, tentatively asked three friends who was the author of "The Breaking Waves Dashed High," but, after being told that it was Mrs. Sigourney, Leigh Hunt and Julia Ward Howe, thought it was best to be frank.—Boston Post.

A bellboy in a Portland, Me., hotel, while running upstairs lately with some loose change in his mouth, stumbled and swallowed the whole amount—two 25-cent pieces, two dimes and eight pennies. All the physicians in town are interesting themselves in the case, but thus far, apparently, have not succeeded in convincing the boy that "the way to resume is to resume."—Chicago Tribune.

Prohibitionists' Pay

Chicago Tribune

It is stated that during the recent inauguration festivities no less than 6000 champagne corks were popped in Washington. Was it for this that St. John did his "fine work"? What do the victims of St. John think of the result of their work, and what would they think if they had seen the hundred times 600 tumblers of whisky which disappeared during the same time? It was a great day for the prohibitionists when their victory was celebrated.

The temporary retirement of the republican party from a power it has so long and so well exercised will have many advantages to the party itself. "Sweet are the uses of adversity."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A short time ago the entire democratic press agreed that, at last, the country was going to have another democratic administration. But now there are many doubts expressed and many more hinted.—Detroit Post.

Messrs. Mackin and Gallagher, the two democratic statesmen of Chicago who have figured a good deal in the papers of late, seem to have been first on the Illinois list to "get something" under the new administration. They get two years apiece.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

One great trouble with the democracy of Ohio, and it has also interfered to some extent with the happiness of the republicans, is the possession of too much talent. There is no doubt that Cleveland has been shocked by the array of great Ohio men.—Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.

Dodging the Office-Seekers

Washington Letter to Chicago Tribune

It is amusing to observe the efforts of democratic senators to avoid office-seekers at the capitol. Every morning at an early hour the applicants for senatorial influence to aid them in getting appointments begin to collect in the senate chamber. By 11 o'clock generally all of the seats in the rear of the chamber are occupied and the aisles are thronged with anxious watchers for democratic senators. Every entrance to the chamber is covered by watchful eyes, and as the hour of noon draws near the impatience of the crowd begins to manifest itself. Numerous questions are put to the pages in regard to Senator So-and-so, as to when he usually comes, by which door he enters. It is noticeable of late that the democratic senators with few exceptions do not show up until after the senate has been called to order. At five minutes to 12 Jim Christie makes the circuit of the chamber warning all in his deep bass voice who are not entitled to the floor to get out. As the crowds file out the most anxious glance back over their shoulders, apparently still hoping to catch sight of the senator upon whom their hopes of office rests. But the senators dodge them until they are protected from their hungry constituents by the fall of the gavel calling the body to order.

Wail of the Office-Seeker

We are sons of the office-seekers from the West,
With companions from the East and North and South;
And we'll never give the Grover any rest
Till we tell him what we want by word of mouth.
We are hungry office-seekers,
We are howlers, we are squeakers,
And we're thirsty after twenty years of drouth.

We're determined office-seekers you can bet,
Tho we're battered, tattered, shattered and unkempt;
Many terrible misfortunes we have met,
And from poverty we've never been exempt.
And although we're each a novice,
Yet we're bound to have an office,
And we'll get it tho' we die in the attempt.
—N. Y. Morning Journal.

Getting Ready to Kick.

Washington Special, March 19.

Unless the President very soon turns his attention to some of the democratic states like Missouri, Indiana and Virginia, he will probably hear some plain talk from leaders of his party. Some of the latter are saying that they will not remain silent and see their party destroyed; that an open rupture is better than to let the undermining process go on quietly for four years. There are prominent democrats who, like ex-Senator [illegible], still hope that things will come right. They hope that the President will yet get in full accord with his party, but the general feeling is one of positive apprehension.

Florida "The Land of Flowers,"

Is a paradise for the invalid and the "Fountain of Youth" was once thought to be hid in one of its forest glades. It is now the haven of many consumptives who find benefit in her genial warmth and fragrant flowers. The consumptive invalid need not necessarily go so far from home and friends to get relief. For if not in the last stages of the disease Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" will restore to perfect health. For all chronic throat, bronchial and lung diseases it is a most reliable specific. By druggists.
